Making Your Will: What Should You Know?

While August is often known for its hot days and back to school planning, what many don't know is that it's National Make-a-Will Month as well. With that said, many believe the process of creating a will to be complicated and burdensome; however, it does not need to be. Below is an examination of some of the factors you should keep in mind when creating your will, as well as other helpful estate planning tips.

September is World Alzheimer's Month!

Alzheimer's disease is the most common type of dementia. This disease starts off with memory loss and can lead into losing the ability to have conversations and respond to the environment. Alzheimer's disease impacts parts of the brain that control thought, memory, and language.

To learn more about Alzheimer's and how to be part of the cure, visit Centers for Disease Control and Prevention below!
